

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
SDSI Announces UnForm version 7.0

SACRAMENTO, CA - USA -- Synergetic Data Systems, Inc. (SDSI) has announced the availability of UnForm version 7.0, the latest release of its popular smart laser forms and document delivery software tool.

UnForm is a platform-independent, client-server software tool for UNIX, Linux, and Windows. It allows value-added-resellers, software developers and integrators to incorporate advanced forms and document management features into existing mainline business software applications without programming and modifications to software code.

"The release of version 7.0 clearly moves UnForm into the category of a full-fledged document management solution", states John R. Wilson, SDSI's director of sales and marketing. "With the addition of document archiving and image management components that seamlessly integrate with the base UnForm feature-set, our customers can now leverage their investment in forms enhancement and document delivery technology to take further advantage of the efficiencies gained from electronic processing of key business documents."

In addition to the new archiving and image manager components, which are offered as options to the base UnForm software license, version 7.0 has a number of other new features and enhancements to the base software to increase its functionality and usefulness. The most significant include:

- POSTSCRIPT printer compatibility;
- new Windows Support Server component for enhanced platform interoperability, such as graphic image conversion, access to the free MSFAX faxing engine, and ODBC connectivity support;
- new IMAGES command and pdf-to-image function for attaching tiled graphic images to source documents;
- a number of new get-file functions for streamlining the retrieval of text data from outside of job print-streams;
- new print-stream page array handling functions that simplify smart-form processing.

SDSI markets UnForm and other software tools through an international network of resellers, developers and integrators. Other SDSI products include the GENERAL report writer, sdOffice, dServe, and MAILCALL. Visit SDSI's website at <http://www.synergetic-data.com> for more information about UnForm, other SDSI products, and marketing programs.

Contact:

John R. Wilson, 800/446-7374
Fax: 530/672-9975
Email: johnw@synergetic-data.com or sales@synergetic-data.com
Website: <http://www.synergetic-data.com>